MANAGEMENT ROLES

- 2007— Deputy Director of the HILDA Survey (Research). Commenced in 2001, the HILDA Survey is Australia's only nationally representative household panel survey. It is managed by the Melbourne Institute on behalf of the Department of Social Services (DSS). My responsibilities include questionnaire design, production of derived variables, monitoring and communicating with the fieldwork provider (Roy Morgan Research), contributing to various reports for DSS and the Survey External Reference Group, preparation of the annual Statistical Report, responding to data-related enquiries from users, media, and the general public, and providing consultancy services.
- 2002—2007 Manager of a section of the Labour Economics and Social Policy research program in the Melbourne Institute. Involved supervision of junior research staff, managing a variety of research projects and engaging clients for contract research and consultancy work.
- 2005 Acting head of the Labour Economics and Social Policy research program in the Melbourne Institute. The program area contained approximately 12 FTE research staff.

ADVISORY GROUPS, COMMITTEES AND PANELS

- 2005— Member of the Australian Bureau of Statistics Labour Statistics Advisory Group.
