

Media Release

Melbourne Institute Monthly Inflation Gauge

The Melbourne Institute Monthly Inflation Gauge report for January 2019 was released at 11am (AEDT), Monday 14 January 2019. Note the report's name change: the report contains inflation data for December but – from this month onwards - will be renamed according to its month of release (e.g. the December 2018 report is now known as the January 2019 report). The data and format of the report remain the same.

The report is only available to subscribers. To purchase a subscription please access the link below:

<http://ecommerce.melbourneinstitute.unimelb.edu.au/categories.asp?CID=49>

The Inflation Gauge report for February 2018 (containing January's data) will be released at 11am (AEDT), Monday 4 February 2019.

ENDS

The Melbourne Institute Monthly Inflation Gauge is designed to give markets and policy makers a monthly update on inflation trends. Further information can be found in the attached report or by visiting:

<http://melbourneinstitute.unimelb.edu.au/publications/macroeconomic-reports>

For queries regarding this report please contact:

Dr Sam Tsiaplias

Tel: 03 9035 3353

Email: sarantis.tsiaplias@unimelb.edu.au