With your agreement, the researchers involved in this project would like to use information from your Centrelink data. This would include information about how much and what type of benefits you receive. This is so that we don't have to ask you as many questions now and in the future.

If respondent seems suspicious, interviewer to say: 'we need this extra information to give us a more accurate picture of how much money you have to live on'. This information will be used by both researchers at the University Of Melbourne and at the Department Of Families, Housing, Community Services And Indigenous Affairs; it will be used only for research purposes, and no information identifying you will ever be passed on to Centrelink.

If respondent queries about FAHCSIA's involvement: The researchers on this project include employees of both the University Of Melbourne and the Department Of Families, Housing, Community Services And Indigenous Affairs.

Employees of both organisations are legally bound to ensure your information is secure and that no information that you provide will be released in a way that would allow survey participants or their families to be identified. The question text for I11 only contained the form "Do you or your partner" if respondent was:

- a) Previously married and still in same relationship (PREV_MARSTAT = 5 AND P4 = 1); or
- b) Reported being married this wave (P4a = 5); or
- c) Reported a de facto relationship this wave (P4b = 1).

This means for those in de facto relationships where the relationship had not changed (PREV_DEFACTO = 1 AND P4 = 1) the question did not refer to respondents partner. This was corrected for Wave 3 onwards.
