Dear Sample Member,

Roy Morgan Research would like to welcome you to the Living in Australia study for 2009. As Australia's best known and longest established market and social research company, we are proud to be involved with a study of such importance.

Thanks to your ongoing participation, the Living in Australia study is in a truly unique position, informing policy makers of changes in the economic and social welfare of Australians. In the current economic climate the information and insight this study can provide to policy makers is even more crucial. In a few weeks, when our Living in Australia interviewer contacts you, please remember the vital role you are playing in shaping Australia's future. If you are busy or unable to take part at that time, they will be happy to call back when it suits you.

Enclosed you will find the latest newsletter. It includes:

- a special message from Professor Mark Wooden;
- examples of how your commitment is helping shape the nation's policies;
- results from the study on the health of Australians;
- information on what is new this year, of special note is the increased gift of $30 cash; and
- our contact details.

Should you wish to contact us for any reason we would be happy to hear from you. Details of how you can request an interpreter are provided on the back of this letter. The Living in Australia team at Roy Morgan Research is very excited about this project and look forward to a successful year. We hope that you enjoy being part of this vital study in 2009.

Yours sincerely

Athina Katiforis
